The aim of this book is to show how feminist perspectives can extend and advance the field of nursing ethics. It engages in the broader nursing ethics project of critiquing existing ethical frameworks as well as constructing and developing alternative understandings, concepts, and methodologies. All of the contributors draw attention to the operations of power inherent in moral relationships at individual, institutional, cultural, and socio-political levels.

The Editors are proud to share how feminist perspectives can extend and advance the field of nursing ethics with the kind support of Prof. Gallagher, Professor of Ethics and Care, International Care Ethics Observatory, at University of Surrey, UK, who will be acting as a moderator.

Helen Kohlen

Professor of Care Policy and Ethics at the Philosophical-Theological University of Vallendar, Germany and Adjunct Professor at the University of Alberta, Canada.

Joan McCarthy

Senior Lecturer in Healthcare Ethics in the School of Nursing and Midwifery, University College Cork, Ireland, and Visiting Professor in the Faculty of Health and Medical Sciences, University of Surrey, UK.
